Penumbra Theatre recently announced 15 events offered within its 2013-2014 Season. The season marks the 37th year for Penumbra and it will celebrate the staging of plays and the introduction of new events to deepen and enrich the theatre experience. New events include Let's Talk Theatre hosted by Sarah Bellamy, the Claude Edison Purdy Individual Artist Festival, and ALoud: A Festival of New Work by Third Year Summer Institute Students.

The 2013-2014 season opens with Summer Institute Student Performances allowing audiences to witness the power of youth art in action. "At Penumbra we train youth to embrace their own potential to lead, to critically engage the world around them, and to respectfully take action to realize the luminosity of their dreams." New to the stage this year, the ALoud Festival is a 3-day event, each featuring a different group of third year student performances. The performances are informed by the advocacy work the students experience with partner agencies including OutFront Minnesota, The Emily Program Foundation, 180 Degrees, Sexual Offense Services of Ramsey County, The Advocates for Human Rights and World Without Genocide.
