

The 30 hottest Minneapolis murals

Written by Kristoffer Tigue, TC Daily Planet

We often forget just how colorful the Twin Cities get when summer rolls in. Most of the time, our sister cities are blanketed in snow under gray, overcast sky. But underneath all the dreariness, lies hundreds of brilliantly painted murals.

Photographer Mark Allan Peterson has taken it upon himself to document every outdoor mural in Minneapolis, and so far he's shot over 550. That's a lot of murals to sift through, so we've done the leg-work and picked out some favorites.

Here's four of the selected 30 hottest outdoor Minneapolis murals that are located in North Minneapolis.
