

Minneapolis Public Schools seek “100 Strong Who Care” volunteers

Written by

Monday, 28 September 2009 14:34

The Minneapolis Public Schools (MPS), in partnership with the National Society of Hispanic MBAs and La Escuelita, seek volunteers from the Latino business community to participate in “100 Strong Who Care: Building Bridges for the Next Generation,” a two-day event designed to inspire the next generation of leaders.

“100 Strong Who Care” volunteers will spend four hours at Andersen United Community School over the course of two days reading to students and participating in career day activities. The program will introduce students to Latino Americans in marketing, science, law, human resources, computer technology and many more professions. This event will take place on October 8 and 9, 2009, from 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m. each day at the Andersen United Community School, 1098 Anderson Lane in Minneapolis.

For further information or to sign up, please contact: Minneapolis Public Schools Office of Diversity and Equal Opportunity (612) 668-0018 endra.young@mpls.k12.mn.us or adebisi.wilson@mpls.k12.mn.us